Customer Reviews

When I saw this set of 4 low carb books for every meal and snacks too, I simply had to buy it. The set is wonderful. There are so many choices that it's hard to pick one favorite recipe of all that I've tried so far, but I guess it would be the Sugar Free Moo Shu Chicken. This author includes delicious appetizers, hearty breakfasts that provide a lot of energy, nourishing sides and a huge variety of dinners in their own sections: chicken-based, beef-based, fish-based, pork-based and vegetarian-based. I also love her smoothies and her slow cooker recipes are great too. Linda covers everything from A to Z. I highly recommend this 4-book set of Low Carb Living recipes. This book is just awesome! I highly recommend this!

Expecting a boxed set based on title. Only one book with different sections for the different "books". No index. However, there are a variety of recipes. The two that I have tried so far were a success.

This was advertised as a "boxed set", but was one book. Has good recipes, so it was a good purchase for me.

I love this set. Trying to maintain a carb-free diet, while adding some new, interesting dishes into the mix, has been difficult. This set was really what I needed. I liked it so much that I bought a set for my daughter, and put it on my tablet, too!

I'm so disappointed with this purchase. I bought it specifically for snacks and desserts. There are only 5 dessert recipes and 7 snacks. There are maybe 125 recipes total, which means each of the four books in the box would have about 30 recipes. Bright side - some of the recipes look good! I just really expected much more.

These books are great from total living all way through the meal plan. Already had one of the books that was excellent so It was simple when Linda offered the rest of these in a bundle pack! Thanks again for great recipes and instruction with a fabulous deal!

I like the recipes in this book, but I think it's deceiving to call it a "boxed set." It's really just one 250-page volume with various sections.

great resource for low carbing
